This Addendum is made in accordance with the requirements of the Occupational Pension Schemes (Investment and Disclosure) (Amendment) Regulations 2019 and it updates the Statement of Investment Principles to record how the Scheme complies with the EU Shareholder Rights Directive (SRD II) which comes into effect on 1 October 2020.

Glossary

ESG – Environmental, Social and Governance (including, but not limited to, climate change)

In the relevant regulations “non-financial matters” refers to the views of the members. This includes, but is not limited to, ethical views, views on ESG factors and views on the present and future quality of life for the members.

“Financially material considerations” includes (but is not limited to) ESG considerations (including but not limited to climate change), which the trustees of the trust scheme consider financially material.

“Appropriate time horizon” means the length of time that the trustees of a trust scheme consider is needed for the funding of future benefits by the investments of the scheme.

Important note

The Scheme’s investment strategy currently consists of a “buy-in” insurance policy and a cash holding. As such, the requirements outlined in this addendum – which largely relate to governance when holding equity and debt – do not currently apply and are not expected to apply in future. However, for the purpose of ensuring compliance with new regime and recognising that the Trustee could in theory alter the investment strategy in future (although this is not expected), we have included suitably compliant wording in order to ensure that the Trustee meets the prevailing legal requirements.

We believe this approach ensures that the Trustee meets the new requirements in full.

Investment Manager Arrangements

The Scheme's assets have historically been held in pooled funds, as is common for a Scheme of this size. The Trustee has limited influence over the investment managers' investment decisions. In practice, investment managers cannot fully align their strategy and decisions to the (potentially conflicting) policies of all their pooled fund investors in relation to strategy, long-term performance of debt/equity issuers, engagement and portfolio turnover.

It is therefore the Trustee's responsibility to ensure that the approaches adopted by investment managers are consistent with the Trustee's policies before any new appointment, and to monitor and to consider terminating any existing arrangements that appear to be investing contrary to those policies.

The Trustee expects investment managers, where appropriate, to make decisions based on assessments of the longer term financial and non-financial performance of debt / equity issuers, and to engage with issuers to improve their performance. The Trustee assesses this when selecting and monitoring managers.

The Trustee's policy on selecting, monitoring, evaluating and (where necessary) terminating these arrangements is set out in further detail below.

Compatibility of Pooled Funds with the Trustee's Investment Strategy

When selecting a pooled fund, the Trustee considers various factors, including:

- the assets that will be held within that fund and whether the asset allocation of the fund is expected to change over time;
- the risks associated with the fund along with the return that is expected;
- the fund's objective (as stated by the fund's investment manager) and whether the objective is consistent with the performance that the Trustee expects from that fund;
- the fund's fee structure to ensure that this is reasonable and that it does not provide an incentive for the investment manager to manage the fund in a way that differs from the expectations of the Trustee;
- how frequently underlying investments within the fund are expected to be traded by the investment manager;
- how financially material considerations (including ESG factors) over the appropriate time horizon are taken into account by the investment manager;
- the investment manager's policy in relation to the exercise of the rights (including voting rights) attaching to the investments held within the pooled fund; and
- the investment manager's policy in relation to undertaking engagement activities in respect of the investments held within the pooled fund*.

This includes engaging with an issuer of debt or equity regarding matters including (but not limited to) performance, strategy, capital structure, management of actual or potential conflicts of interest, risks, and ESG matters. It also includes engaging on these matters with other investment managers, other holders of debt or equity and persons or groups of persons who have an interest in the issuer of debt or equity.*

After analysing the above characteristics for a fund, the Trustee identifies how that fund would fit within its overall investment strategy for the Scheme and how the fund is expected to help the Trustee meet its investment objectives.

Duration of Investment Manager Arrangements

The Trustee normally expects that pooled funds will be held for several years.

However, as part of the periodic strategic asset allocation reviews (which take place at least every three years), the Trustee will review whether the ongoing use of each fund remains consistent with its investment strategy.

The Trustee regularly monitors the financial and non-financial performance of the pooled funds held and details of this monitoring process is set out below. If the Trustee becomes concerned about the ongoing suitability of a pooled fund, it may reduce exposure to it or disinvest entirely. Such action is expected to be infrequent.

Monitoring Pooled Funds

The Trustee regularly assesses the performance of each fund held and this monitoring includes an assessment of whether the investment manager continues to operate the fund in a manner that is consistent with the factors used by the Trustee to select the fund (as listed above).

When assessing the performance of a fund, the Trustee does not usually place too much emphasis on short-term performance although it will seek to ensure that reasons for short-term performance (whether favourable or unfavourable) are understood.

The Trustee expects the investment managers of pooled funds to invest for the medium to long term and it expects investment managers to engage with issuers of debt or equity with a view to improving performance over this time frame.

If it is identified that a fund is not being operated in a manner consistent with the factors used by the Trustee to select the fund, or that the investment manager is not engaging with issuers of debt or equity, the Trustee may look to replace that fund. However, in the first instance, the Trustee would normally expect its investment adviser to raise the Trustee's concerns with the investment manager. Thereafter, the Trustee, in conjunction with its investment adviser, would monitor the performance of the fund to assess whether the situation improves.

Portfolio Turnover

The Trustee is aware of the requirement to monitor portfolio turnover costs (the costs incurred as a result of the buying, selling, lending or borrowing of investments).

When selecting a pooled fund, the Trustee will consider how the investment manager defines and measures:

- the targeted portfolio turnover (the frequency within which the assets of the fund are expected to be bought or sold); and
- turnover range (the minimum and maximum frequency within which the assets of the fund are expected to be bought or sold).

At least annually, the Trustee, in conjunction with its investment adviser, will consider the transaction costs incurred on each pooled fund. As part of this analysis, the Trustee will consider whether the incurred turnover costs have been in line with expectations.

The Trustee will take the above information on portfolio turnover into account when assessing the ongoing suitability of each pooled fund.

Stewardship

The Trustee's policy in relation to the exercise of rights attaching to investments, and undertaking engagement activities in respect of investments, is that they wish to encourage best practice in terms of stewardship.

However, the Trustee invests in pooled investment vehicles and therefore accept that ongoing engagement with the underlying companies (including the exercise of voting rights) will be determined by the investment managers' own policies on such matters. For that reason, the Trustee recognises that its ability to directly influence the action of companies is limited.

Nevertheless, the Trustee expects that each investment manager will discharge its responsibilities in respect of investee companies in accordance with that investment manager's own corporate governance policies and current best practice, including the UK Corporate Governance Code and UK Stewardship Code.

The Trustee also expects that each investment manager will take ESG factors into account when exercising the rights attaching to investments and in taking decisions relating to the selection, retention and realisation of investments.

When considering the suitability of an investment manager, the Trustee (in conjunction with its investment adviser) will take account of any particular characteristics of that manager's engagement policy that are deemed to be financially material.

The Trustee recognises that the members might wish the Trustee to engage with the underlying companies in which the Scheme invests with the objective of improving corporate behaviour to benefit the environment and society. However, the Trustee's priority is to select investment managers which are best suited to help meet the Trustee's investment objectives. In making this assessment, the Trustee will receive advice from its investment adviser. The Trustee recognises that the investment managers' own policies are likely to be focussed on maximising financial returns and minimising financial risks rather than targeting an environmental or societal benefit.
